

Canadian Society for the Study of Practical Ethics at the Congress of Humanities and Social Sciences

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Reckonings & Re-imagings

The Canadian Society for the Study of Practical Ethics invites submissions on any topic in the major areas of practical ethics (e.g. bioethics, business ethics, environmental ethics, ethics of technology, health care ethics, professional ethics) as well as topics addressing ethical issues and concerns which arise in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, professions, and other areas of activity and learning.

Come join us at York University, Toronto, Canada on May 28 - 30 2023.

SUBMISSIONS

Submissions must include a 500 word (max) abstract. Send to secretary@csspe.ca by January 15, 2023

DON MACNIVEN STUDENT PRIZE

Are you a graduate student? the CSSPE invites students to submit papers for consideration for the Don MacNiven Student Prize. To be considered you must submit your abstract by January 15, 2023. If accepted, you will need to submit a full conference paper (4000 words max) by April 15, 2023.

IMPORTANT DATES

JANUARY 15, 2023

Abstract
submission deadline

MARCH 15, 2023

Acceptance notification

APRIL 15, 2023

Membership fees
due for all presenters.

MAY 28-30, 2023

Conference at York University

SUBMISSION DEADLINE

January 15, 2023. All submissions should be prepared for blind review. Send submissions to secretary@csspe.ca

MEMBERSHIP

Interested in Practical Ethics? Annual memberships only cost $55 for Full Time Faculty, $40 for Contract Faculty, and $25 for Students. Visit www.csspe.ca for more information.

QUESTIONS?

For more information, questions, or inquiries please contact secretary@csspe.ca or visit our website at www.csspe.ca